

Conflict of Interest Disclosure and Resolution & Core Competencies 2nd Annual Southern California Genitourinary Cancer Research Forum February 28, 2025

City of Hope takes responsibility for the content, quality, and scientific integrity of this CME activity.

City of Hope is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME). As a fully accredited ACCME Category 1 CME credit provider, the Continuing Medical Education Department has in place policies and procedures which insure the balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all of its educational activities. City of Hope complies with the Standards for Integrity and Independence in Accredited Continuing Education of the (ACCME), which REQUIRE that all relevant disclosed conflicts of interest be mitigated prior to the educational activity.

To this end all faculty presenters who are in a position to control the content of an educational activity must identify any real or apparent conflict(s) of interest by disclosing to the Department of CME all relevant financial relationships¹ with any ineligible company². To comply with more intense scrutiny by accreditation agencies, should you disclose any relevant conflict of interest with an ineligible company, the content of your presentation must be peer reviewed prior to presenting. Presentations will be provided to participants as an e-syllabus or in a meeting handout, all relevant disclosures will be made known to participants prior to the start of the activity.

In furtherance of program impartiality, we request the use of generic drug names in your presentation as opposed to trade names. Under no circumstances will we accept trade names. Additionally, contents of your presentation must be based solely on scientific methods generally accepted by the medical community. Data will have been objectively selected from peer-reviewed literature and will be presented in an unbiased manner.

CORE COMPETENCIES

The American Board of Medical Specialties (ABMS) and the Accreditation Council of Graduate Medical Education (ACGME) have embarked on a joint initiative to quantify and evaluate a set of 6 physician core competencies by which the individual physician will be measured for Residency Certification, Board Certification and more recently, Maintenance of Certification (MOC). Individual hospitals and other health care delivery organizations will now also be evaluated by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations (JCAHO) on their practice and demonstration of the 6 core competencies.

In brief, the actual term “core competencies” refers to those six abilities (competencies) that are central (core) to the practice of medicine, specifically: (1) Practice-Based Learning and Improvement, (2) Patient Care, (3) Systems-Based Practice, (4) Medical Knowledge, (5) Interpersonal and Communication Skills, and (6) Professionalism. To assist our conferees in demonstrating their completion of CME in the six core competencies, the educational content of each presentation will be noted by numbers 1-6 in the table below. CME certificates for this activity will reflect those core competencies addressed by the educational content of the overall conference.
